WEATHER PROBABILITIES, Nov'r. 24, 1879. For the Middle States rising barometer, diminishing northwesterly winds, colder and generally clear weather, followed to-night and on Tuesday by falling barometer.

DAY OF REST.—As it is important that "in-ture generations, yet unborn" should know the state of the weather in these days of their forefathers, it is well to say that yesterday was a little too cool for comfortable promenading, and while it was "fair you see," there were a large number that were "sad you see." churches, however, being warm and pleasant, and the only places of resort that combined comfort and display-meaning no harm to the churches-had large congregations. There one could see ladies with beau catchers, commonly called "spit curls" plastered all over their foreheads, making pretty girls ugly, and changing otherwise intelligent countenances into the idiotic. Away with the "spit cur's." frizzes, and all such, and let us, the ladies, return to the beautiful old style of putting the hair back plainty off the forehead. There one could see, also, all the now styles, and then go home alter, and our, and make over, to suit accordingly. The new bonnets are very pretty, unlike the abominable old style hats, drawn down over the eyes, so that a lady had to put her optics in a dying-call position to look a person squareig in the face, but sitting back, the whole face and forehead are visible, displaying the bewitch ing and captivating expressions that play upon the leatures, the beauty of all ladies. The most beautiful and sensible of all the styles one soes are the heavy cream entered cloaks. There were very few of them out, but those that were drew forth the praise of the pure minded, and the "I wonder how she managed to get that," from the cavious. Let "Friends?" go on calculating how much husbands make, and wonder how on each they can stand it, but eream colored closks are really beamiful, notwithstanding. Well, having looked at the different styles, let us look at the different people. Everybody is religious in the churches. There are many there who appear to listen attentively, but the Gospel has no effect upon them; they are all right in theory. but all wrong in practice; there are others who are fautiest, and others still—men and women—who, while they are large in statue, are we meet—who, while they are large in stache, are mean and small; exceedingly little. How is this to be accounted for? It is a fact that the religion of Jesus Christ, when rightly understood, produces large hearted, noble men and women.

The passession of the United States is not denied, and no leave to sue has been granted by the identical position. Is it because these people are not properly in-structed? It is because they have not correct views of the Great Being they wership? If this is so let the ministers of Christ throw aside the trappings of all moral referms and instruct the people, and impress upon them that the Truth is the only thing that the Truth is the only thing that earn make them free. Is a right to encourage ignorant man to get up before a respectable sufficient to the course of the law, as laid down by the spectable sufficient to the course of the law, as laid down by the Ought a respectable numerous sit and fister to men, who, one piter another, rise and tell how they have laid in the guiter, beastly drunk; how many wives they have best to death; how ney have run away from their landlerds, &c. One would imagine that, to a consitive mind, these things would be ereting. But Alexandria seems to have mere than her chara of effictive disponsitions. There is DJ'so: itua he is not a man to do any harm, but that is no credit to him, for he would lead mon estray if he could. And then there was a notice in the Gaz tte last week headed, "The Judeeship." What has Alexandria been guilty of? It toust be something awful. Truly she needs a day of fisting and prayer, and it is hoped "To all whom these submitted his report for the monopresents may come, greeting," will be strictly under the Moffett Equor license. observed. By so doing this thing may pass cleaveland Bridge and Iron Co. vs. Board away from us, for, while believing "what's to of Supervisors of Alexandria county; appeal; te will be," we den't know this thing is to be, motion to dismiss overraled and case continued. though devoted to destruction, was spared be- trater of Richard Southern, were confirmed. cause its people but on sackcloth and askes, so this old city may be spared also. Lot all the 10 o'clock. people jut on sackeloth and ashes. Speaking of prayer, one of the preachers preached two splendid sermons on prayer yesterday, showing the complete folly of prayer without using the means placed at our disposal for the fulfilment of the prayer. Another speaker spoke on patience, lit's knowing that there was one in the andria. congregation who had had his patience sorely tried. Getting up on one of the coldest nights of ast week, he attempted to strike a light, hance, Lieut. Bush, must obey the stern call Rushing to the mantle, shivering and shaking, he grabbed what he supposed was a good ponse was, "William, they've all been used before." William, in the happiest frame of mind, went back to bad and dreamed of angels, roses. &c. Men make some luppy statements some time, for instance a Sanday School laith, and they all cried out, "A monkey climting a liberty pole." Margaritta Walton, a minister of the Society of Frience, preached at the Friends' meeting house yesterday afterboon. She is a very sweet looking lady, and was dressed in the plain garb of a Quakeres. Her discourse touched upon all the practical things of life, kindness, charity, temperance, and was listened to attentively by a large con gregation. A man by the name of Dolan, who describes himself as a toolish, weak, base and despised individual, -- and some people say the description is a correct one-spake on the wharf North would have spoke of themselves in just this way. He damned the poor shoemakers that make the new fashioned high beeled, high laced boots for the ladies. He spoke against tobacco, and as for those ladies who wear teathers in their bonnets, they are all on the high way to perdition. Indeed all the people in Alexandria are in the broadway except him-

Mr. Carne moved to go into an election for three trustees of public schools, to fill vacancies occisiosed by the expiration of terms on the lat instant, which was carried. Mr. Barke suggested the election of John E. febrey, esq., for Arlington, but subsequently withdrew his name, and nominated Capt. Robert S. Lacy, who was upanimously elected. Messrs, Alexander McKerichar, for Jofferson, and George Ott Wunder, for Washington, were, on Green's answer to a rule to show cause why on motion of Mr. Carne, unanimously re-

Superintendent Carco then informed the Mr. Cozonove G. Lec. Board that he had been told that Mr. Samuel E. Gross had left Washington District, and several gentlemen from the neighborhood of his former residence, confirming the statement.

Jewell had been suggested to him as suitable course of a week or so will have a channel persons. He knew Mr. Walker personally, as with six feet of where at low side. As it he had been a truster, and a good one, before, is at present no vessel drawing over two persons to be appointed. The clerk then lail before the Board the petition of William Torrison and thirteen other persons, for the removal of the unite District Board of Arlington, and the appointment of Randolph Birch thereon in place of George R. Adams. Also a communication from George R. Adams, chairman of said Beard, requesting that a full investigation into all its acts from its organization be made and offering the petitioners free access to its records and papers to enable them to make charges. On motion of Mr. Carne, the c'erk was directed to inform the peritioners that the term for which Messrs. Adams and Bailey were appointed has not yet expired, but that if they desire to prefer charges against them they will receive due attention. The Board then adjourned.

At the opening of the case Superintendent Smith, following the example of Superintendent Kauffman in the Arlington case, files a disclaimer of right of possession, and avows that he makes no claims to the possession. District Attorney Wells, on beneff of the Attorney General, files a suggestion to the court that the United States in the exercise by Congress. THE SHIP YARD .- The work of getting out the frame for the new schooner, to be built at the ship yard here, is being rapidly proceeded with in the woods of Charles county, Md. speaker, who said. "Now, boys, what is faith? Every piece will be gotten out as nearly perfect This is faith; if I were to tell you that I saw as possible, and will only need to be tremmed a monkey climbing a liberty pole, and you be- up and fitted in place on its arrival here. THE ALEXANDRIA MILITARY .- The Washington Sunday Herald says:

"The Alexandria Light Infantry made its first appearance in this city Wednesday, and for a new organization their appearance was indeed creditable, for they marched with the precision of veterans. The cadets from St. John's Academy, of the same city, also made a decided sensation, the youngsters vising with the older company for the paim.'

Low Tipes .- The low tides which have prevailed for a week or more past, continued again to day. The flats are bare as well as the heads of the docks, and steamers on the river route experience great difficulty in cottering the various creeks and other tributaries. It is the opinion of old river men, however, that the wied will chop around to the east ward in a short time and bring very full tides.

RACES.-Lovers of equine sports should not forget the races at the fair grounds to morrow, Several noted horses have been entered, and a great deal of fun is anticipated. The grounds have been handsomely decerated with flags, &c., and the arrangements for the accommedation of ladies are perfect.
